With over 12,000 mutual funds available, the Company is an experienced specialist and provides investment opportunities from a carefully selected group of fund families. The customer base for the Company consists of pension funds for municipal employees, firefighters, and police departments. The majority of the Company's customers are located in the Midwest. The Company is a member of the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. (NASD).

Financial statement presentation

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("U.S. GAAP").

Revenue recognition

Commissions represent the spread between buy and sell transactions processed and net fees charged to customers on a transaction basis for buy and sell transactions processed. Commissions are recorded on a settlement date basis, which does not differ materially from trade date basis.

Net Capital Requirements

Pursuant to Rule 15c3-1 of the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Company is required to maintain net capital as defined under the rule. The Company is required to maintain "net capital" equal to the greater of $5,000 or 6 2/3% of the "aggregate indebtedness," as these terms are defined. Net capital changes from day to day, but at December 31, 2007 and 2006, the Company has net capital of $92,671 and $13,920, respectively and had no customer accounts.

Commission's receivable primarily represents commission income earned on security transactions. Management of the Company believes all amounts included in commissions receivable are collectable in full and, accordingly, no allowance for doubtful accounts is deemed necessary.

Furniture and equipment are depreciated on the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets. There wasn't any depreciation expense for 2006 and 2005. Leasehold improvements are amortized on a straight-line method over the life of the lease. Amortization expense for 2006 was $112.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all highly liquid investments, with a maturity of less than a year when purchased, to be cash equivalents.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Income Taxes

The Company elected in 2005 to be taxed as a Subchapter S corporation. As a Subchapter S corporation the taxable income for federal purposes flows thru to the majority stockholder, and accordingly there is no taxes paid at the federal level. 2008	$28,394
2009	$29,104
2010	$24,859

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL

To the Board of Directors
D.J. MOSIER & ASSOCIATES, INC.

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of D.J. Mosier & Associates, Inc., (the Company), as of and for the year ended December 31, 2007, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion of the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g) (1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities. This study included tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons and recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13
2. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate. In addition, the Company is a small organization and segregation of duties is limited by the number of employees.

REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL

February 21, 2008

A control deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a control deficiency, or combination of control deficiencies, that adversely affects the entity's ability to initiate, authorize, record, process, or report financial data reliably in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles such that there is more than a remote likelihood that a misstatement of the entity's financial statements that is more than inconsequential will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control.

A material weakness is a significant deficiency, or combination of significant deficiencies, that results in more than a remote likelihood that a material misstatement of the financial statements will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control.

Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving internal control that we consider to be a material weakness as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives, in all material respects, indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2007, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the use of the members, management and the SEC and any other regulatory bodies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
